

Introduction of Service Bulletin

In order to facilitate communication with our customers' world wide, COMET will use a Service Bulletin in this format. The Service Bulletin will be published from time to time to provide an optimum flow of information between our customers, subsidiaries, representatives, our most important partners, and us, i. e. COMET AG (Business Unit Plasma Control Technologies) in Flamatt, Switzerland.

The Service Bulletins are serially numbered. We would refer to this Service Bulletin as to SB-01.

The Service Bulletins are classified in categories which include information about:

- General Information
- Handling, Installation, Maintenance
- Capacitor Series
- Cooling System
- Drive System
- Technical Background Information

COMET is providing a Service Bulletin search engine on the website www.comet.ch. There will be also an overview about all available Service Bulletins.
